

Freedom Is Everything (2007)

BOSE KRISHNAMACHARI

Artist and curator of the Kochi-Muziris Biennale

PICKS

Sakshi Gupta

The incredibly talented Sakshi Gupta has often been likened to an acrobat who jumps over all her contemporaries. She is a sculptor who works with a wide range of media as well as an eclectic choice of subjects—metal, feather, light, found objects. She even embarks upon site-specific works, kinetic sculptures, fibreglass donkeys, metal eyelashes woven like a mattress and textiles. Rarely simplistic, or even naïve for that matter, not only is her work highly imaginative, it also hints at being schizophrenic and surreal. She's highly sought-after by the taste-makers of contemporary Indian art, and her success exceeds her young years.

